Book Prices Are Under Investigation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four
book publishers who are on Arkansas' approved book sale's
list are involved in antitrust
litigation in Illinois, state Education Commissioner A.W. Ford learned Thursday.

Shown clippings of the lawsuit involving 18 publishers who currently sell elementary text books to school districts under the free textbook program, Ford
said he would write for more information.

Education Departments files
show that four of the book
companies operate in Arkansas
and are the Bobbs-Merrill, Inc.,
of Indianapolis, Ind.; Holt, Rine-
hard & Winston, Inc., of New York; Harper & Row, Inc., of
New York and the MacMillan
Co. of New York.

At least 10 states have sought to intervene in the Illinois lawsuit, but Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell said he had no knowledge
of the litigation until a reporter
handed him a news clipping.
Ford said he learned of the suit
the same way.

The suit charges that the 18
publishing houses joined whole-salers to fix artificially high prices for library books. The federal Justice Department
filed an antitrust suit last April against the publishers.

Johnson Is Counting on Higher Taxes

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The
Johnson Administration is counting on higher taxes, expanded exports, more foreign visitor to the United States and belt tightening by American businessmen to hold in check an expanding dollar drain.

In reporting the fifth straight quarterly rise in the balance of payments deficit, the government also announced Thursday
stricter guidelines for U.S. businessmen to follow during 1968 in stemming the flow of dollars
overseas.

The deficit in balance of payments increased to $670 million
during the third quarter—the highest in 2½ years—and if the trend continues the deficit will exceed $2 billion during 1967 for
the first time in three years.

Total deficit for the first nine months of the year was $1.75 billion compared with a $1.35 billion average in each of the last two years over-all.

Treasury Secretary Henry H.
Fowler said the administration is now drafting "selective measures" to encourage U.S. industry to cultivate foreign markets
more aggressively. He noted a White House announcement of a government-industry task force
to recommend steps to increase foreign travel to the United States.

Both these measures are designed to lessen the drain which occurs when Americans spend more money overseas than foreigners spend in this country.
Each outgoing dollar represents a potential drain on U.S. gold stocks.

Fowler declined at a news
conference to spell out the export promotion measures until
more details are drafted.

Blame for the continuing deficit has been placed by Fowler
and other officials on the Vietnam war.

The Federal Housing Administration reported meanwhile
that interest rates on conventional home mortgages remained stable at 6.55 per cent
nationally during October.

Administration officials have warned a sharp upturn in home
mortgage interest rates is likely unless Congress passes President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.
Failure to enact the tax hike,
they contend, would force heavy federal borrowing that would take money out of circulation
for conventional loans.

Tired Goose Did Wobble Free

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Roy
Booth was fishing before dawn
in a Wichita lake.

Suddenly a flock of wild geese
flushed by. One brushed Booth's arm. Another banged into his fishing rod and line.

Away went the goose—line,
rod, reel and all—but the weight
of the gear dragged it back down into the water. Three times the goose struggled into the air, crash landed, and finally collapsed exhausted.

Booth cut the line and retrieved his rod and reel as the tired goose wobbled back to the lake.

This Was All a Family Affair

BLOOMINGBURG, Ohio (AP) —
After Max Grim was elected
without opposition as mayor of this central Ohio village of 800,
he named his brother George a special consultant.

Two other brothers, Robert
and Raymond, then were elected to the Board of Public Affairs, and their mother, Mrs.
Irene Grim, was elected to the Village Council—all by write-in votes.

should have bought common
equipment.

On another subject, the GAO
said the Defense Department
failed to use millions of dollars worth of equipment it already possessed to fulfill aid requirements abroad. Again, the Defense Department, joined by the Army, agreed with the findings
except for some specifics and said corrective measures are being taken.

The GAO said some of the

put to use. The reason, said GAO, was poor inventory proce-

by consultants of the proposed
merger of the University of Ar-

Oakland Wants 50 Day Season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Oakland Jockey Club has requested a 50-day horse racing
season for next year.

State Revenue Commissioner
B. Bryan Larey, who is ex-
official secretary to the Racing Commission, said Thursday the request was relayed to the commission for action.

The 1967 legislature created
Act 130 which authorized up to 50 consecutive day meets, excluding Sundays, at the Hot Springs track.

The request asks that the season run from Feb. 9 through April 6.

Students Find Independence Tough Way

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The
1.3 million-member National Student Association, rocked last February by revelation of its long-standing ties with the Central Intelligence Agency, is finding out painfully that political and financial independence is a tough way to make a living.

The NSA-CIA divorce after an apparently happy although secretive marriage left NSA
with little money, little purpose
and a "child spy" image that
was, at the very least, embarrassing.

Now there is no money, no apparent purpose and an image
that some NSA members and
even a few of its own staff call radical.

After its break with the CIA, NSA underwent a complete re-orientation. The CIA had funneled $3.3 million into the NSA
international programs and those programs had become NSA's primary activity. When the CIA went, so did the international programs.

So NSA, with affiliates on some 300 campuses, turned
most of its resources, energy
and time to the American campus, expanding its tutoring programs, its drug education program and its interests in improving curricula.

One of the primary money
sources for those programs was
the Office of Economic Opportunity. But the antipoverty
agency is having its own financial problems and NSA has not seen OEO money for months.

So far, reorientation has been political and the politics—by NSA's own estimate—have been somewhere left of liberal.

The first major steps taken in that direction came late last summer at the NSA congress in College Park, Md.

Some 500 delegates from colleges and universities across the country voted resolutions
against the war in Vietnam, for Black Power "by any means
necessary," against the present
draft system and in demand of a greater student voice in university affairs.

"We have moved to the political left," said NSA President Michael Schwartz in an interview. "I'd say we fall somewhere between ADA (the liberal Americans for Democratic Action) and SDS (the far-left Students for a Democratic Society)."

On some campuses, the new NSA activities have caused repercussions. Some universities
—among them the University of Michigan and George Washington University—have disaffili-ated, although Schwartz says this has not been a mass movement.

There are other NSA affiliates
and former affiliates who can't forget the CIA incident and some who refuse to believe
those days are over.

NSA insists they are, but in the national office here, the ghost of the CIA still haunts
them.

they have an agent lurking
among them and swear the telephones are bugged. Some think

Pilkinton Heads Easter Seal Drive

JAMES H. PILKINTON

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — James
H. Pilkinton of Hope has been appointed Hempstead County
Chairman of the 1967 membership drive for the Arkansas Association of the Crippled (the state's Easter Seal Society), it was announced today by Congressman Wilbur Mills, state
membership chairman.

Judge Pilkinton is a Hope attorney, well known in business
and legal circles, and is a former Chancellor, Prosecuting Attorney, and State Senator from
this area.

"The Association is presently composed of more than 8,000
members from throughout Arkansas; but this year we are shooting for an increase to 10,000 members", Congressman Mills said.

Association membership is gained through nominal annual dues, and members are entitled to elect officers at the annual meeting and to receive various reports during the year, including the Association's annual financial reports.

Mr. Ray Lawrence, Executive
Vice-President of the First National Bank of Hope, is presently serving as local treasurer.
Persons may join by seeing Mr.
Lawrence or sending him their contributions.

The Arkansas Association conducts an annual Easter Seal Campaign. Funds from the campaign, and other contributions,
support an accredited school for the handicapped children, a sheltered workshop for handicapped adults, an in-patient rehabilitation center and various other services for physically and mentally handicapped persons such
as transportation to schools,
speech therapy and physical aids
for the crippled.

News From School at Saratoga

The Saratoga School PTA met
Thursday, Nov. 9 with President
Mrs. Dan Northcutt in charge.
The school nurse, Mrs. Neva Roland, showed a picture on the dangers of cigarette smoking.
Mrs. Weisschadel gave an especially appropriate devotional
for American Educational Week.
Parents were invited to visit the
home rooms of their children,
and see some of the work being done there. The highest percentage of parents were from the second and from the tenth grades.

We know one of our senior
boys "Ro Ro" Rowe in room 410, Wadley Hospital, Texarkana, would be glad to hear from all his acquaintances. The injury resulted from being thrown
from an overturning automobile,
and the length of his stay is, at present, indefinite.

At a district PTA meeting, a school of instruction under the leadership of Mrs. Ollie Mae Owens of Texarkana was conducted for Mineral Springs and Saratoga PTA members at Saratoga, Thursday, Nov. 16.

JOHNSON TRYING (from page one)

with Westmoreland in a nationally broadcast interview program, (NBC's) Meet the Press
on Sunday.

The Sunday interview is unusual in bringing together two such men as the ambassador and the general. Furthermore the White House has been considering also scheduling them
for a joint appearance before
the National Press Club next Tuesday.

Privately, Bunker has met
with the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He is reported to have told these groups that progress in the war can be measured by the formation of the new government in Saigon and by the expanding control of the government over the Vietnamese population. He uses the figure of 67
per cent.

Bunker also has told the congressional groups he does not believe any more U.S.
troops will be needed in South Vietnam beyond the present authorized limit of 525,000 by mid-1968.

The word inside the government is that President Johnson
has "orchestrated" the continuing policy conferences at the White House during the week
with the public appearances by Bunker and Westmoreland.

The President himself set the stage with his speeches during a tour of military bases late last week on the occasion of Veterans Day.

Johnson appealed for support
for his policy of seeking "limited
victory" in Vietnam and said
"peace will come more quickly
when the enemy of freedom
finds no crack in our courage,
and no split in our resolve . . ."

BOMBING HALT (From Page 1)

Johnson told a news conference,
Hanoi's own response has shown
that stopping the air attacks
alone will not bring the Reds
to the negotiating table.

He said Hanoi's rejection of his latest offer of peace talks—
made last weekend aboard the aircraft carrier Enterprise—
had been "clear and complete."
That should answer the question of every person in this country who thinks a bombing
halt alone will accomplish this end, he said.

"There are some hopeful people and there are some naive
people and there are some political people" who advocate a
one-sided bombing suspension,
but such proposals just "con-
fuse and weaken our position,"
he said.

As he talked of the situation
in Vietnam, Johnson walked a few steps from the lectern in
the White House East Room
and gestured with his hands and arms.

Johnson turned the conference
into an ad lib address to the American people on Vietnam.

Removing his glasses and stepping away from the podium
which held his notes, Johnson
spoke for more than five minutes on the central issue of U.S.
policy—the Vietnam war.

Standing before newsmen in
the White House East Room, Johnson was on the dramatic
side, gesturing more than usual,
clapping his hands for emphasis, and bobbing his head.

Smiling, Johnson said he will cross when he comes to it
the bridge of decision on running again for the presidency.
He had been asked about surveys indicating he might be in trouble on Vietnam.

Anyone who believes that Uncle Sam, whoever is president,
is going to pull out of Vietnam,
is making a serious mistake, the President said.

If Ho Chi Minh has any doubts
about it, "I want to disillusion
him this morning," Johnson
said. "We're going to keep our commitments."

Johnson was asked his assessment of the situation in Vietnam
after talking with Gen. Westmoreland and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

"I think every American
heart should swell with pride"
at what U.S. forces are doing in Vietnam, he said.

The American people want
wins and other contests to be decided quickly, he said, adding
"that's not the kind of war
we're fighting in Vietnam."

Raising his hands, he noted that the war is proceeding on a rising curve. "We're inflicting
greater losses than we're taking," he said.

Johnson said "I think there's always been confusion, frustration and differences of opinion" when there is a war.

It has been true since the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, and subsequent wars,
Johnson said.

College Presidents Rap Plan to Draft Interfering Students

Nurses Here Support Nat'l Salary Goal

The Arkansas State Nurses' Association in Convention, October 19 and 20 reaffirmed its support of the National Salary Goal of $6,500 for entrance into nursing practice adopted by the American Nurses' Association, June 1966.

The National Salary Goal resolution states that "In 1966 a registered nurse should enter the profession at a yearly salary of not less than $6,500." Implementation of the resolution will be carried out by the state nurses associations.

Commenting upon the nurses' action, Mrs. Nettie Jane Goss, President, said, "Beginning salaries in Arkansas now average $1,700.00 below the national goal." An immediate raise to goal level is possible here and is of urgent and utmost importance to all residents of this state. Today's salaries discourage the recruitment of qualified young people, and also discourage the return of the professional prepared inactive nurses to the nursing team in the state.

Many married nurses with young children cannot afford to practice their profession; the salaries they can earn are not enough to compensate them for cost of child care. Too often we overlook the direct relationship between numbers of nurses needed and the quality of care a patient receives.

Because the need for professional and practical nurses is increasing so much faster than the supply, hospitals have employed ever larger numbers of nursing aides, many of whom are inadequately trained. This pragmatic solution to the problem of deficiency has produced an alarming deduction of quality of service. In some hospitals the use of auxiliary workers has reached such extreme proportions that nursing aides give as much as 80 percent of the direct nursing care.

Today there are 2,821 professional nurses practicing in the state and additional 900 non-working professional nurses registered and living in the state. A recent project survey in 56 counties in the state revealed current budgeted unfilled positions for 286 professional nurses in Arkansas. Another three hundred to five hundred will be needed to replace those who will leave the profession between 1967 and 1970.

Quality nursing care must be supported by quality nursing salaries.

Until the economic status of the nursing profession is improved, nursing will be unable to compete successfully with other fields in which pay and benefits are more attractive. The single most important deterrent to providing the nursing service to which the American public is entitled, is the continued low economic status of the registered nurse practitioners.

Low non-competitive salaries that do not reflect the value of nurses' service to society, effectively discourage the recruitment of talented young people and the retention of qualified, able practitioners.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Lyman Armstrong, Madison, Ind., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Thompson Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Murphy, Lockport, Ill., are the guests of his brother, S. L. Murphy, and Mrs. Murphy.

Mrs. Velma Cox went to Nashville Wednesday to meet her new granddaughter born November 15 in Nashville to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cox. This is their second child and their first daughter.

Those from out of town that attended Mr. C. M. Agee's funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Dee Rich and Mrs. Clyde Kantz from Stuttgart, Mr. and Mrs. Dale McGee from Malvern, Mrs. T. E. Hervey and Mrs. Floyd Duke from Texarkana, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lide from Camden, Rev. and Mrs. Delbert McAtee and daughter Marilyn, Mrs. Clyta Agee from Snackover, Mrs. Elizabeth Horton from Washington, Rev. W. D. Agee and Family from Waco, Texas, Henry Martin, Mrs. Bettie George Johnson from Magnolia, and W. P. Agee, Jr. and wife from Memphis.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cornett of Hope, Ark., announce the arrival of their second child, a son born Thursday, November 16. The baby weighed 8 pounds and 6 ounces and has been named Russell Wayne. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Evans of Hope.

The income tax as we know it today became effective on March 1, 1913.

WHATEVER became of the miniskirt? That may soon be the question, judging from items such as this currently popping up in fashion collections. A red wool coat on military lines, shown in Paris, features a mid-length hemline.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Not all of George Bernard Shaw's witty commentaries translate as comfortably into a musical form as "My Fair Lady"—not even when the music is written by Richard Rodgers.

NBC's adaptation of "Androcles and the Lion" arrived Wednesday night having lost somewhere along the way the bite and sly satire of the Irish playwright. The score, alas, was one of Rodgers' minor efforts.

What came through in the 90 minutes was the familiar tale of a small timid tailor of ancient Rome, one of the Christians, whose love of animals gave him courage to pull a thorn from the paw of a lion.

Captured by Roman soldiers, Androcles is placed in the arena with other Christians to be fed to the lions for the sport of Caesar and the populace. Of course, the lion turns out to be his old friend and his life is spared.

Norman Wisdom played Androcles in broad comedy style, even occasionally dropping into cockney baby-talk when speaking to his lion. Ed Ames had a song or two in his part of the giant who worried about his conscience. Inga Swenson appeared as a Christian girl who attracted a Roman captain—just enough for a couple of songs with him.

Noel Coward as Caesar appeared at the end of the show and had one amusing number, "The Emperor's Thumb," which he delivered with considerable style.

But at no point did there seem to be a comfortable fit of story and music. Ancient Rome and the ordeals of early Christians combined with musical comedy like oil and water. Perhaps Rodgers' best number was a sort of hymn, "Follow in Our Footsteps," but in the name of humor, even this one had the name changed at one point to "Feed Them to the Lions."

The show was a disappointment. Later on ABC, there was a slick attention holding adaptation of "Dial M for Murder." It is a dandy suspense story to start with and was done in good British whodunit style.

NBC will drop "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," now in its fourth season, after the Jan. 22 show. The replacement will be a variety series starring the comedy team of Rowan and Martin. The canceled show's ratings have been very low this season and its departure was expected.

NBC also confirmed officially that "Maya" will be replaced by "The Saint," in early March. The British action series did well as a summer replacement, "Accidental Family," the first series to go - on Jan. 12 - will be replaced by an evening edition of the morning game show, "Hollywood Squares."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

FOR PARENTS ONLY

Dear Helen: You have said, concerning our modern permissiveness, "One of the hardest things for an affluent parent to say is, 'No, earn it yourself!'" Most all of us want to be good parents and give our children more than we had. But sometimes over-giving takes away the greatest gift of all: responsible maturity.

Here is my formula for raising a child:

Teach him what he must know as an adult — he has more perception than you think.

Expect respect and obedience and you'll get them. And let your actions and words show your respect for HIM.

Teach him to think positively; have foresight. Trouble avoided is better than trouble mended. Give him responsibility and show him how to use it wisely and dependably.

Teach him honesty. Cheating and snitching are just as wrong for a child as for an adult.

Give him all the privileges he can handle maturely, after he has earned them.

Demand that he obey the law. A juvenile violator doesn't automatically become a law-abiding citizen on his 21st birthday. Do not help support his bad habits: smoking, drinking, the dangerous kind of dating. And remember, closed eyes are a form of approval.

Tell him what you expect of him. Anticipate new experiences and discuss them before they arrive. Talk sympathetically of other people's mistakes in an effort to spare him the same painful experiences.

Allow him to criticize you respectfully. Let him tell you why he thinks you're unfair, and hear him out. He may be right.

Admit a mistake if you make one.

Show him thriftiness is still a virtue — that wise persons live within their income, only buy what they need and can use, and know saving toward goals is smart.

Teach him to be thankful for his blessings. People facing real tragedy rarely complain. It's the poor planners who think they have hard luck.

Set good examples, for a child inherits his parents' reputation, until he establishes one of his own.

Make your home happy and "easy to live in." Unhappiness and misery breed more of the same. A child is the product of his environment.

Encourage him to be unselfish, for the selfish are never happy with what they have.

Guide him toward accepting your decisions until he is capable of making mature decisions for himself.

Most of all, give him much love and understanding, but firm discipline at the same time. — MOTHER OF FOUR

P.S. They say the proof of the pudding is in the eating. My one adult offspring is a teacher, mother of two, happily married to an engineer. I prefer to remain anonymous lest my formula backfire while we raise the remaining four.

Dear Mother: Thanks for an excellent guest column.

May I add Number 19? Listen more than you lecture! Sometimes a child closes his ears to talk — unless it's his own — H

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The first major film about the Vietnam war is hearing completion, thanks to the bulldog determination of actor-director John Wayne.

So far he has endured corporate indifference, a couple of vexing ailments, Army restrictions, the vagaries of Georgia weather and the taunts of anti-war zealots. Next week, after expending $4.5 million and four months of shooting time, he expects to complete "The Green Berets."

After 13 weeks at Ft. Benning, Ga., Wayne came back to Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Burbank studio for final scenes. Why the return?

"Georgia doubled fine for Vietnam until fall started and the leaves began turning. You don't get those reds and golds in the Vietnam foliage, so we decided to finish up at the studio."

The husky actor came back with a touch of laryngitis, acquired from three weeks' night work in temperatures as low as 26 degrees. Rain often plagued the company, but Wayne kept working. He turned 60 last May but seems to have withstood the rigors of double duties.

Taking a rare break from production matters, Wayne discussed the stormy history of "The Green Berets." Last year the film was announced as a Universal production; later, Wayne and his Batjac production moved the project to Warner.

"I guess those guys at Universal were scared of it," said Wayne. "They think they can run the picture business by computers. Well I got news for them: It can't be done."

"I was in a meeting with them when they started making a big fuss over a $100,000 item in a $4.5-million budget. I figured they couldn't be very enthused about the project, so I let them off the hook. They grabbed at the chance."

The feeling in Hollywood is that many studios have shied away from Vietnam subjects on the grounds that it is an "unpopular war." Wayne has an answer to that:

"What the hell war hasn't been unpopular?"

After Wayne purchased the Robin Moore novel, "The Green Berets," he went on the Pentagon to seek cooperation on filming. He admitted that changes have been made, since the book was not entirely popular with the brass.

The Pentagon agreed to help Wayne, but military cooperation is not the same as in the World War II and postwar era, when studios could stage vast battle scenes with real troops.

Top Ranked UCLA Plays SC Saturday

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roses will be blooming in the thoughts of UCLA, Southern California, Indiana and Minnesota football players Saturday, but for Army, no matter what happens, the season will be one of bitter-sweet memories.

Top-ranked UCLA will battle No. 4 Southern California in Los Angeles, with a Rose Bowl invitation and probable national championship at stake.

The other Rose Bowl berth will be decided at the Indiana-Minnesota game at Minneapolis. Even if third-ranked Purdue beats Michigan State Saturday and then fifth-ranked Indiana the following weekend, the Bollermakers will be ineligible for the Rose Bowl under Big Ten rules because they played in the last one.

But Army has nothing to look forward to but victories at Pittsburgh Saturday and over Navy Dec. 2 for a 9-1 record, the best at West Point since the 1949 team was 9-0.

Some of the sweetness went out of the Cadets' season Thursday when the Pentagon announced the Army football team will not accept a bid to the Sugar Bowl or any other postseason game. The Sugar Bowl had indicated an interest in inviting the Cadets.

Other games involving Top Ten teams Saturday:

Second-ranked Tennessee plays Mississippi at Memphis, Tenn.; No. 6 Wyoming is at Texas-El Paso at night; seventh-ranked Oklahoma is at home against Kansas; No. 8 Oregon State, which has beaten Purdue and Southern Cal and tied UCLA, entertains Oregon, No. 9; Notre Dame is at Georgia Tech and 10th-ranked North Carolina State is at Clemson.

Maryland is at Wake Forest in the only game involving major teams Friday night.

The big game of the weekend has to be the one between UCLA, 7-0-1, and Southern California, 8-1, which will be televised nationally (ABC, 4 p.m., EST).

Not only does it involve a race for the Rose Bowl and national honors, but it also will pit two of college football's super stars—UCLA quarterback Gary Beban and Southern Cal halfback O. J. Simpson—as a battle between UCLA's offense and Southern Cal's defense, but in this traditional game surprises are the rule.

It's 'Do or Die' for Old Alma Mater On Nation's Gridirons This Saturday

The Peerless Predictor

Egad, friends, this is the week old grads will be talking about for the next 12 months. The schedule is loaded with interstate and intrastate rivalries that always bring out the crowds and the best in the gladiators.

Getting together to settle their annual differences are such traditional foes as Southern California and UCLA, Tennessee and Mississippi, Texas and Texas Christian, Washington and Washington State, Missouri and Nebraska, Northwestern and Illinois, Oklahoma and Kansas, Oregon and Oregon State and Utah and Utah State.

These are the games in which past performances and season records mean nothing—it's "do or die" for Old Alma Mater and the devil take the hindmost—unkumpli!

Notwithstanding the obvious uncertainties inherent in such situations, The Hoople System has some gilded predictions for you—kaff-kaff!

Employing the same secret Hoople mathematical progression which correctly forecast Penn State's stunning upset of North Carolina State last Saturday, I predict that of the nation's four major unbeaten eleven—UCLA (7-0-1), Indiana (8-0), North Texas (6-0-1) and Wyoming (9-0)—two will feel the lash of defeat

Small College Bowl Picture Almost Settled

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer

The small college football bowl picture is almost settled over most of the country. But in the East, a real dogfight has developed.

North Dakota State, 9-0, has clinched a spot in the Pecan Bowl, which will be held Dec. 16 at Abilene, Tex. The opponent more than likely will be the winner of Saturday night's contest between Lamar Tech, 7-2, and Texas-Arlington, 8-1, at Arlington.

North Dakota State is ranked second in this week's Associated Press small college poll, and Texas-Arlington is rated sixth. Lamar Tech was dropped from the top ten after suffering a 41-31 upset by Louisiana Tech last weekend.

Top-ranked San Diego State will play host to Montana State Saturday night with the winner almost certain to return to the Camella Bowl Dec. 9 in Sacramento, Calif. The Aztecs, 8-0, will be seeking their 25th straight victory in the rematch between the teams which met in the 1966 Camella Bowl.

Montana State lost its first two games this season, but since has reeled off seven straight victories and is the Big Sky Conference champion for the second straight year.

The other Camella spot will probably be the winner of the San Francisco State-Cal Poly Pomona game Saturday night. San Francisco is led by quarterback Bob "Holy" Toledo, who has thrown 41 touchdown passes so far this year.

Watch for Southern California to bump UCLA in a real Hollywood-type cliff-hanger, 22-21. And for the power-packed U. Texas El Paso to outlast the Wyoming Cowboys in a free-scoring affair 28-26 kaff-kaff!

Tennessee will move a step closer to the Southeastern throne by trouncing Ole Miss 24-13. And North Texas State will retain its undefeated status by turning back Tulsa, 25-21 in Missouri Valley competition.

In the tight Big Ten race Indiana will clinch a Rose Bowl berth by whipping Minnesota 21-6 while its neighbor Purdue also undefeated in the Big Ten but prohibited from going to the Rose Bowl two years in a row will thrash Michigan State 35-14 kaff-kaff!

Casper and Friend Lead Haig Meet

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper isn't just one of the best professional golfers around. He also knows how to pick partners.

Casper picked a good friend, Don Collett, as his partner for the $115,000 Haig Scotch Golf Championship and after Thursday's first round the pair shared the lead. But it took a putting lesson to get there.

Collett missed a 4-foot birdie putt on the second hole Thursday and then missed a 10-foot downhill putt on the fourth. So Casper told his friend, a pro at Brae Burn Country Club in Houston, Tex., to slow down his putting stroke.

The advice seemed to work wonders. Collett proceeded to sink four birdie putts — a 6-footer on the sixth, an 18-footer on the 11th, a 25-footer on the 12th and a 4-footer on the 16th.

So the pair conquered the par 36-37—72, 6,881-yard La Costa course with a 34-36—66.

Tied with Casper and Collett were Ray Floyd and Ken Still, who combined to shoot a 33-33—66 in the unique event.

Both partners in the Haig Scotch hit tee shots. Then they decide which ball will be used the rest of the way and the partners take alternate shots until the ball is holed out.

Thirteen of the 73 teams competing broke 70, 35 broke par and 41 teams had par or better.

But the favored team of Sam Snead and Gardner Dickinson shot only a 2-over-par 74. Tied for second at 67 were 3 teams — Howie Johnson-Lee Trevino, Pete Brown-Lee Elder and Dick Martinez — Bob Lunn. Five teams shot 68s.

ABA Having Attendance Problems

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The new American Basketball Association is having attendance problems. Commissioner George Mikan readily admits, but he says they are predictable and there is no financial panic.

Citing such factors as "selling a new product," scheduling difficulties in arenas in the 11 ABA cities and bucking football and hockey for the entertainment dollar early in the season, Mikan candidly admitted in an interview, "We knew we were going to have problems."

There is no talk of any teams folding or being transferred to other cities at the present time, Mikan said.

"It's been represented to me by the trustees of the league that they will operate for three years," Mikan said.

Last Quarter Fatal to Lady Cats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

When your opponent outscores you 16-3 in the final 60 seconds of the first three quarters, you usually get beat. That was the difference last night at Jones Field House, as the Bradley Bearettles scored their 68th straight win, this one by 76-64 over the Hope Lady Cats.

Gaining momentum from outstanding free throw shooting, Bradley was able to play their own game; not to impressive, but they simply "beat" you into the ground. The Bearettles do have their mainstays, a forward and a guard. The forward, with the unlikely name of Glenda Knott, is as co-ordinated as any girl on the Bradley team, and she also stands a fraction below 6 feet, 2 inches tall. The guard, possessing the title of Johnette Hamilton, played last night with a strained ankle, yet still her quickness and toughness made her an unbeatable defensive player.

An inspired Lady Cat team came out like the Harlem Globetrotters, though, and jumped to an early 6-0 lead. But Hope's flutery guards were sawed by the fine Bradley forwards that they could not hold them down. The Bearettles took the lead 9-8 with 2:25 left in the opening period and never lost it.

After trailing by as much as ten points in the second quarter, the Lady Cats came to within 33-29 with 1:00 showing. Here came Bradley, though, and before you could turn your head it was halftime and Bradley was leading 38-29. But the crusher was that third stanza.

With inspired guard play and remarkable foul shooting (28 out of 34 for the whole game), the Bearettles simply refused to lose. Nevertheless, the proud Lady Cats fought back to 54-48 with 1:00 left in this period. A field goal, four free shots, and Hope was down 60-46 with seven minutes remaining.

As the large crowd cheered them on, the Lady Cats tried again and again, but couldn't get the momentum back until the final minute, when it was too late. Now the Lady Cats look to next Tuesday evening, when they bus to Bradley for a rematch.

No matter what the outcome, coach Charlotte Gibson has to praise her four fine guards, who are quickly returning to their top-flight form of last year. The four who played last night were Kay Coleman, Donna Byers, Nellie Churchill, and Jenny Callcott. Of the bunch, Churchill led in rebounding with eight.

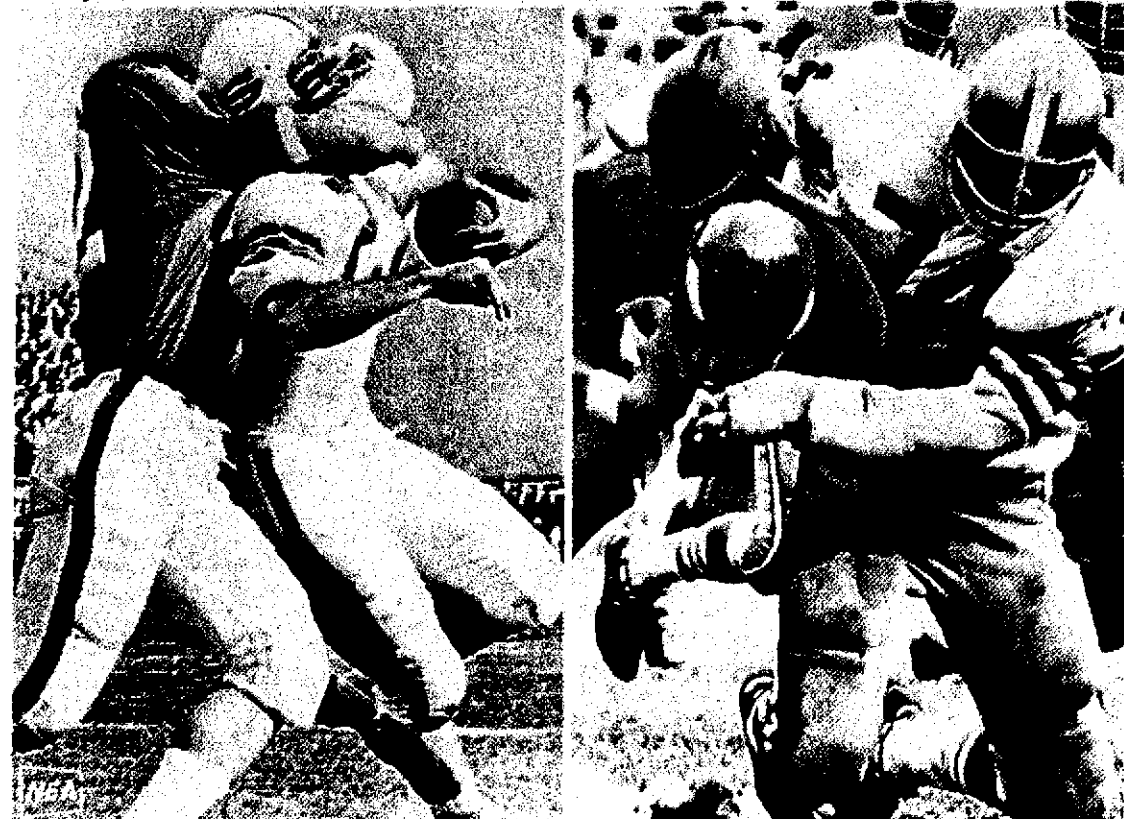

Turning in a sharp individual performance, Carol Anthony led the Lady Cats with 36 points. She was followed by Call Hartfield, who sacked 18, and Kathryn Coleman, who provided 10 to round it out. Glenda Knott (who else?) led Bradley with 37 points, one over Carol Anthony. After her, Jan Allen racked up 21, Lydia Williams 14, and Peggy Wilson and Nancy Atkins had two apiece.

By the way, Miss Knott knotted 13 of the free shots, while Miss Williams sank 10 of her 12 attempts. For the entire game, the Ladies made 18 of 25 from the charity line and 37.7 percent from the field, and Bradley had 24 of 45, or 53.4 percent.

In the first game of the evening, the Hope Kitty Cats made great strides of improvement against a fine Bradley team, even though losing 49-34. The forwards were better balanced, and the guards gained much experience.

Still, hustle and desire made up the slack, as Mrs. Gibson's charges showed that their time is coming to win a game this year. Dee Singleton once again paced the Kitty Cats with 26 points, and Andy Bellis had a good game with 11. Belinda East had 2 and Melissa Jordan sunk 10 of 14 up to 34. Judy Moore paced 15 to lead Bradley, followed by Jan Allen's 14 points. Ladonna Jennings had 6 points, Amy Hinchey with 5, and Patricia Hinchey with 3.

Also the Kitty Cats guard line, consisting of Barbara Fuller, Pat Taylor, Betty Angel, and Lando Hobson gave them 15 percent easily. These girls also play the Bradley's purgament Tuesday, and will be out to win.

Baltimore, Green Bay Are Picked

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore, Green Bay, Dallas and St. Louis should roll along in the National Football League and the New York Jets and Oakland in the American Football League as the pro teams head into the home stretch of the schedule Sunday.

Thanks to Murray Rose's expert 9-1-2 job while the old Hand-picker was battling the flu bug, the season record is up to 72-26-9 (46-197 in the NFL, 26-7-2 in the AFL). All the games this weekend are Sunday. Let's take another guess:

NFL
Baltimore 24, Detroit 14—John Unitas usually finds chinks in Lions' tight defense. Mel Farr will find Colts tough to run against. Baltimore still unbeaten, playing consistent ball. Lions must go to well again Thursday at home against Rams.

Los Angeles 31, Atlanta 10—First of two between same clubs in next three weeks. Rams should run up early lead and ease up for Thanksgiving date in Detroit. Les Josephson and Dick Bass pack too much punch for Falcons who have given up more points and scored less than any in NFL.

Cleveland 21, Minnesota 17—Loss of Ernie Eber and Erich Barnes hurts battered Browns but Frank Ryan should get enough help from Leroy Kelly and Garry Collins. Browns won preseason game 42-14.

Philadelphia 24, New Orleans 21—Eagles are hurting but Saints already have beaten them once 31-24. Eagles' injury-riddled defensive backfield often invitation for Jerry Cozzoo. But Philadelphia has way of snapping out of it at Franklin Field. Anything can happen.

St. Louis 20, Chicago 17—Cards have Johnny Roland to run at Bears, giving Jim Hart a chance to exploit passing game. Bears racked up Fran Tarkenton last week but Cards have superior offensive line, despite off day against Steelers.

Green Bay 28, San Francisco 14—Last Green Bay home game until Dec. 17. San Francisco in three-game losing slump get Dave Parks back. How many can Travis Williams run back this week?

Dallas 35, Washington 23—Another wild one. Cowboys seem to be having troubles getting untracked despite two straight wins. Redskins could upset with return of Charley Taylor. Cowboys just did it on Oct. 17-14. Dallas made 18 of 25 from the charity line and 37.7 percent from the field, and Bradley had 24 of 45, or 53.4 percent.

Rangers Too

Victims of

West Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the New York Rangers have fallen victim to the surprising West Division of the National Hockey League.

The Rangers, unbeaten in four starts against the new expansion teams, were upended by the Philadelphia Flyers 3-2 in one of the two games on Thursday night's schedule.

In another interdivisional game, the Detroit Red Wings and Oakland Seals played a 1-1 tie.

The Flyers jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the opening period at Philadelphia on goals by defenseman Ed Van Impe and Leon Rochette, the latter a former Ranger. New York cut the margin midway through the second period on Reg Fleming's marker, but Philadelphia got that one back later in the session when Ed Hochstra beat Ed Giacomin, the Rangers' netminder.

Defenseman Rod Seiling scored New York's second goal in the fifth minute of the third period.

Each of the five other older established clubs in the East Division had previously been defeated by an expansion team.

In the game at Oakland, each team scored in the first period and played scoreless hockey the rest of the way. Alain Caron's tip-in on a power play gave the Seals a 1-0 lead at 3:44 of the opening period and slightly more than two minutes later Gary Jarrett provided the equalizer with a 20-footer.

Rookies Roy Edwards of the Wings and Gary Smith of the Seals displayed flawless goaltending from then on. Edwards finished with 15 saves while Smith turned aside 21 shots including a zizzer by Gordie Howe late in the second period.

The 1-0-0 record enabled Detroit to move into sole possession of second place in the East, one point behind pace-setting Toronto. Oakland now is tied for fifth with St. Louis in the expansion West Division.

Babe Parilli but Pats hurting physically.

Battered Chiefs reverse earlier 45-31 defeat and climb back into race. Hank Stram still has shot at Super Bowl if he beats Chargers Sunday and Oakland next Thursday. Chiefs must clamp down on Dick Post and Jeddie Duncan.

New York 27, Boston 24—Joe Namath threw for 141, 11-30-23 victory over Pat at home, Oct. 29. Mike Holovak expected to return to Buffalo as energy coach.

Oakland 37, Miami 14—After a week off it will be difficult to hold Raiders in check but they have tough date Thanksgiving at Kansas City.

New York 27, Boston 24—Joe Namath threw for 141, 11-30-23 victory over Pat at home, Oct. 29. Mike Holovak expected to return to Buffalo as energy coach.

Also the Kitty Cats guard line, consisting of Barbara Fuller, Pat Taylor, Betty Angel, and Lando Hobson gave them 15 percent easily. These girls also play the Bradley's purgament Tuesday, and will be out to win.

No. 37 Proves a Winner for Blevins

Arkansas' defense, which supplied the big plays last week, is certain to feel the pressure again Saturday when the Razorbacks play the offense-happy SMU Mustangs at Dallas.

SMU and Rice tangled a couple of weeks back and Rice Coach Bo Hagan claims the Mustangs employed 16 formations they hadn't used in their previous games.

Quarterback Mike Livingston and wide receiver Jerry Levias are the ones who make the SMU offense go. Livingston threw four touchdown passes in the Mustangs' 35-28 loss to Texas. Levias, an All-Southwest Conference choice last year as a sophomore, has the moves and the speed to score from anywhere on the field.

Arkansas beat Rice 23-9 last week because the defense stopped the Owls in the first quarter and then gave the offense field position with two long punt returns by Gary Adams and a brilliant interception return by Tommy Tranham.

Arkansas has adapted its offense somewhat to the passing talents of Ronny South and the Razorbacks can move the ball. Arkansas 20, SMU 10.

Arkansas State University lost its chance at any part of the Southland Conference championship last week, dropping a 16-14 decision to the University of Texas at Arlington. The Indians play Trinity this week and should win, if they can regroup.

ASU 14, Trinity 10.

Henderson's fieldies upset State College of Arkansas and can claim second place in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference with a victory over Ouachita Saturday. The other conference game matches Southern State and Arkansas A&M at Monticello. A&M clinched the AIC title last week by virtue of Henderson's victory SSC can catch the first division with a victory.

Henderson 21, Ouachita 17.

A&M 14, Southern State 7.

The other three conference teams, State College, Arkansas Tech and Harding, finish their seasons against non-conference opponents. SCA plays at Tennessee Martin Branch, Tech plays at Southeast Missouri and Harding hosts Central, Mo.

SCA 23, Martin Branch 14.

Tech 10, SE Missouri 7.

Harding 20, Central, Mo. 14.

Rockets Win

After Losing

10 Straight

SEATTLE (AP) — In their first 10 home games this season, the San Diego Rockets averaged about 5,000 fans and lost all 10 games.

In their 11th game at home Thursday night, only 3,162 fans showed up at the San Diego International Sports Arena, but this time the Rockets won a 99-91 National Basketball Association victory over the Chicago Bulls.

It was the only NBA game played.

A jump shot and a layup by Don Kojis and a jumper by Green with about two minutes to play pulled the Rockets ahead after the Bulls closed to within two at 87-85.

Five NBA games are on tap for Friday night.

No Birthday Cake for Prisoner

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A jail prisoner has failed in his effort to have a judge order the sheriff to provide him with a birthday cake with candles and one song, "Happy Birthday."

A communications delay was blamed.

John P. Shinnors, charged with possession of narcotics, asked for a writ of mandamus in a petition to the court. The request, couched in legal language, was hand-lettered in pencil.

Judge Tom Bergin of Hennepin County District Court said, however, the petition wasn't delivered to him until after Shinnors' 31st birthday had passed.

In "Marshall Miles Teaches Logical Bridge," the author points out that when your opponents reach three no-trump through their own bidding and without competition, a double asks your partner to lead the first suit bid by dummy.

This is an old convention and like most conventions, whether old or new, has almost as many variations as there are expert players.

Marshall teaches the simplest form, which may be stated as follows: "When your opponents reach three no-trump without any competition, a double asks your partner to lead the first suit bid by dummy. It doesn't demand that your partner make this lead. Your partner may have some overpowering reason to lead something else. It also doesn't guarantee that you will beat the contract. It just is a toll that is going to prove valuable in the long run."

Today's hand shows Marshall Miles' first example. East isn't sure that a spade lead will beat three no-trump, but he is pretty sure that without a spade lead South will romp home. He doubles and hopes for the best.

This time it works. West hears the double and opens a spade. East takes five spade tricks and South is down one. If it had turned out that North held five spades instead of four, East's lead directing double would merely have held declarer to nine tricks, but that is the chance that a player who makes this type of double takes. You must use your lead directing doubles with discretion and realize that it is rare indeed that you can be certain that your lead-directing double will succeed, but you should also know that you never get anywhere by just sitting back and waiting for something to happen.

Prevention of Stroke Always Best Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the usual cause of strokes? What is the best treatment? How long must the treatment be continued?

A—Strokes may be caused by the breaking loose of a blood clot and its lodgment in the brain, or the rupture of an artery in the brain. The latter is usually brought on by a combination of hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. In either case, the circulation to a part of the brain is cut off and the part affected ceases to function.

The best treatment is always prevention. But when a stroke has occurred, studies must be made to locate the exact source of the trouble. In some cases, the trouble is in an artery in the neck and is readily accessible to surgical repair. In others, rest and good nursing care must be provided during the acute stage. Following this, every effort should be made to rehabilitate the victim. This is a slow process but, in many cases, it results in an amazing recovery of function.

Q—About two years ago, I had an intracerebral hematoma. My blood pressure is still high. Would diet help to control this condition?

A—For your high blood pressure, a salt-poor diet is recommended. Careful administration of drugs to bring your blood pressure down is also necessary.

Q—Following a slight stroke two years ago, my arms and legs have been weak and I lead something else. It also doesn't guarantee that you will beat the contract. It just is a toll that is going to prove valuable in the long run."

Today's hand shows Marshall Miles' first example. East isn't sure that a spade lead will beat three no-trump, but he is pretty sure that without a spade lead South will romp home. He doubles and hopes for the best.

1968 Last Year That Auto Owners Will Have to Fight Long Lines

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas motor vehicle owners will fight long lines for the last time when they purchase 1968 license tags, but they will have two months, instead of the normal one, in which to do it.

The state Revenue Department will begin selling the plates in December for the first time so that the department can begin implementing the permanent motor vehicle registration law passed by the 1967 General Assembly.

After the 1968 tags are purchased, owners will then begin obtaining future plates through the mail on a staggered basis beginning next July.

The department is urging vehicle owners to register their vehicles and obtain licenses in December, if possible, so that more time can be devoted to placing needed data in the department's computer that will handle future license plate sales automatically.

And, for the first time in history, the tag will belong to the individual and not the vehicle. In the future, when a person trades his vehicle in on a new one, he will take the tag off the old vehicle and place it on the new one.

The permanent tags purchased in December and January will be renewed each year with the Revenue Department providing a decal giving the expiration date. The vehicle license must be renewed annually but the department expects each license plate to last at least five years.

The renewal period will begin next July with about one-sixth of the owners being notified by mail to purchase a decal expiring the last day of July, 1969. The remaining five-sixths will be selected on a random basis to renew their licenses in August, September, October, November and December.

Each license will expire in 1969 on the last day of the month in which the purchase was made.

For those concerned about the money involved, the department won't be sticking you for an extra half year fee. Each motorist will be credited with the number of months remaining in 1968.

The owners will receive notice to renew 45 days before the first day of the month in which his license expires.

The department already has data processing information on the owners of Class I trucks so those renewals will begin next March, taking one-fourth of the truck owners in each month beginning in March and extending through June.

Since the tag will belong to the person, an individual buying a new car for the first time or one obtaining a second car for the first time will have to go to his local revenue office to buy a tag. Regardless of the month, those tags will expire the last day of the month each year in the month of purchase.

Following the sale of 1968

tags, all future tags will be sold by mail. A person will have to go by his local revenue office each year so that the clerk can verify the payment of personal property taxes and also issue a new tax assessment.

The change to the new system is being directed by H. W. Reinhardt, who retired from the Air Force at Little Rock Air Force Base in the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Reinhardt, who has been with the department since March, has been delivering speeches throughout the state explaining the new motor vehicle registration law to automobile dealers and tax assessors.

Italians Are Closer to Divorce

By EDWARD MAGRI
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP)—Divorce at home never looked so close before for Italians, but the bill to legalize it still has a long way to go despite its first legislative victory.

A parliamentary committee voted 21-20 Thursday to approve the first section of a bill to make divorce possible in Italy under limited circumstances. The entire bill still has to clear the committee and then both houses of Parliament.

But the vote was a landmark. It was the first time a divorce bill was voted on by members of Parliament in the 107 years that Italy has been a unified nation.

The bill would permit divorce in these cases:

—After five years of unbroken legal separation.

—When a spouse has been sentenced to a prison term of at least 12 years.

—When one spouse has been convicted of sexual crimes against close relatives, or of any crime against the other spouse or their children.

—When a spouse has been in a mental institution for five years with no prospect of prompt recovery.

—Two years after a non-Italian spouse has obtained a divorce or has married again abroad.

Only the single Fascist member of the committee joined Premier Aldo Moro's Christian Democrats in voting against the bill's first section. Everybody else, from Communists to the conservative Liberals voted for it.

The same party lineup in the full Chamber of Deputies would assure its passage. The issue poses a dilemma for the Christian Democrats, the strongest political force and the Catholic party in this Catholic country. They were believed planning delaying tactics.

If they do not pull out all stops against the bill, it is expected to pass and they would lose face. But if they try to force the Socialists—their allies in the coalition government—into a common stand against divorce, a government crisis almost certainly would ensue.

Warns Parties They'll Face Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic campaign strategists acknowledge they'll face intraparty problems in trying to elect Senate candidates next year if Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy wages his threatened challenge to President Johnson in presidential primaries.

They foresee major difficulty in Wisconsin, where Sen. Gaylord Nelson faces a potentially tough re-election race, and where the voters will ballot in a presidential primary April 2.

Among other presidential primary states which will have Senate races next year are New Hampshire, California and Oregon, all possible McCarthy target spots.

One key Democrat said primary-bred divisions could be a problem for the party in those states, but added Wisconsin would be the most troublesome case.

One Democrat, unwilling to be quoted by name, said if McCarthy does enter primaries as a peace candidate opposing Johnson, Wisconsin will be one of his most likely targets.

Nelson, himself a critic of the administration's war policy, would not discuss the position he might take in a McCarthy-Johnson primary in his home state.

"It would be difficult," he said. Other Wisconsin Democrats said McCarthy's entry into the state's primary would cause a party split which could encourage Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles to challenge Nelson for the Senate post.

Nelson's position on the Vietnam war is not unlike McCarthy's. Nelson said he believes the United States should stop bombing North Vietnam to test the possibility of negotiations and should also turn a larger share of the war in the South over to the Vietnamese.

McCarthy's potential 1968 challenge is also producing talk in Senate corridors that the White House would like Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to act as a Johnson stand-in should McCarthy enter the Massachusetts balloting April 30.

Stand-in candidates ran for the Democrats in the 1964 primaries in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland, where then Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama was entered.

Kennedy aides said Johnson has not approached the Massachusetts senator on the Bay State primary question. "There's been no contact from the White House in this regard," one of them said.

Kennedy is in Geneva attending an international conference on refugee problems.

No Delay for Bill Aimed at Antiwar Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—House liberals indicate they won't try to delay consideration of a controversial bill aimed at antiwar groups which seek to aid the enemy in Vietnam or disrupt troop movements at home.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., is scheduled for House consideration today.

Opponents say they don't expect the parliamentary delaying tactics that marked last year's debate on a similar measure.

The bill, product of a stormy 1966 investigation by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, was passed 275 to 64 in the waning days of the 89th Congress but died in the Senate.

It provides penalties up to $20,000 and 20 years in prison for Americans helping the Viet Cong or North Vietnamese and up to $10,000 and five years for blocking or trying to block U.S. troop trains.

Rep. John C. Culver, D-Iowa, sole dissenting member of the Committee on Un-American Activities, plans to argue the measure is unnecessary.

No Room for Secrecy When Taxes Are Talked

A secret meeting has been set up in Little Rock next Tuesday and it directly concerns all the taxpayers of Arkansas. Nevertheless it is to be secret. The organization calling the meeting: The State Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance.

The meeting's purpose: To hear the report of consultants on the proposed merger of the University of Arkansas and Little Rock University.

This means bad news for the taxpayers of Arkansas; nevertheless the public and the press are to be excluded. The state commission's executive director, E. L. Angell put it this way:

"If we are going to have the press here we just won't discuss it. This report (from the consultants) was requested by the Legislative Council. We intend to make our report to the council and not to the newspapers."

It's traditional for bureaucrats when anticipating some project is going to get a hostile reception to attempt a news "blackout." It's not directed exclusively against the press — for the press has no rights above those of any private citizen — but it is directed against any and all citizens not of the official class.

It's the official class that proposes projects and levies taxes — but it's the private class that has to pay . . . yet the payers are to be denied knowledge of what's going on when the spenders meet . . . in secret. This is the scandalous end of a project that had an unsavory beginning.

For all the 38 years this editor has been a citizen of Arkansas, Little Rock promoters have been doing their level best to steal the University of Arkansas from Fayetteville.

The promoters got nowhere with either the legislature or the taxpayers.

Then, just a few years ago, the promoters dreamed up the idea of accomplishing theft through the back door instead of the front. They organized "Little Rock University."

Now they have run out of local tax support and are beating the drums for a takeover by the taxpayers of the whole state. Their proposal takes the shape of a "consolidation" with the University at Fayetteville, with tax-supported campuses in both Little Rock and Fayetteville.

You grasp the idea. A few years go by and suddenly the main campus is in Little Rock — and the capital city promoters will have accomplished by subterfuge what they couldn't do openly and directly.

All this will cost millions, of course, and Arkansas taxpayers will foot the bill . . . for the benefit of Little Rock, not Arkansas.

No wonder the promoters want to keep next Tuesday's meeting secret . . .

One Hurt as Log Truck Overturns

A blowout caused a truck loaded with logs to overturn on Highway 67 at Emmet about 6:30 p.m. yesterday, one passenger was injured and logs blocked the highway for about 20 minutes.

State Police Officer Neal said the truck was driven by Billy Griffin, Gordon. Lewis Dugh and Richard Roberts of Gordon were passengers. Roberts was thrown out of the truck and a log may have rolled over him, the Officer said. He was taken to a Gordon hospital for treatment. Extent of his injuries could not be learned today.

Also in the investigation were State Patrolmen Brewer and Radgwell.

Compares Writing a Newspaper Column to Digging a Daily Grave

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "What is it really like to be a newspaper columnist?"

That is the question readers most frequently ask and, after only 24 years in the industry, the one I find hardest to answer.

It was best described, in my opinion, by the late Don Marquis, who was a columnist for many years before he repented and became a playwright. He said of his former occupation that it amounted to "digging a daily grave."

There do seem to be some public misconceptions of a columnist's pattern of existence.

For example, some people feel he is a person who dwells in a penthouse, rides to work in a chauffeur-driven limousine, and has a salary adequate for running up the prices. He is supposed to have lunch with industrial tycoons, spend his afternoons giving confidential advice to world-renowned diplomats and his evenings running his fingers through the minds, if any, of beautiful movie stars.

Beloved friends and dear questioners, that ain't quite the way a normal red-blooded American newspaper columnist really lives.

He lives, as most people do, on the edge of his personal desperation. He has two big problems in life: (1) to find a new idea each day that will save him from mental bankruptcy, and (2) to earn enough money to provide bread for his children and milk to keep his ulcers quiet.

His biggest yearning in life is somehow to find a way to surprise his wife with a fur coat — made of any kind of fur — before she expires.

The next-most - often - asked question that makes a newspaper columnist sigh is this one:

Johnson Trying to Persuade People the U.S. Is Winning War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is engaged in an extraordinary effort this week to persuade as many people as possible the United States is slowly but surely winning the Vietnam war.

This apparently is the primary purpose of his consultations here with his ambassador in Saigon, Ellsworth Bunker, his military commander, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, and other top officials involved in the Southeast Asian conflict.

And the President provided himself with an opportunity to talk to the people by scheduling a news conference for today—

one of the few this year he has opened to live television-radio broadcast.

Bunker is making an unusual number of public appearances — unusual for an ambassador summoned home for White House consultation. Westmoreland has a less heavy schedule but his engagement list could grow.

Bunker's message in public statements and private meetings with congressional groups is that the United States and its allies are making "steady progress" in the war. Westmoreland returned to Washington Wednesday, a few days behind Bunker, declaring: "I have never been more encouraged in my four years at Vietnam."

Bunker sounded his progress theme at a White House news conference Monday after spending 90 minutes with the President. The following morning he was interviewed briefly on a national network and he has agreed to tape a brief interview with another network.

In other major appearances he is scheduled to speak at the Overseas Press Club in New York tonight and to participate

Missing Boy Is Found Unharmed

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Two-year-old Tod Plancon, missing since Thursday when a car in which he was seated was stolen, was found unharmed today on an enclosed front porch of a Fairfield home.

Police said Mrs. Stephen Sherwood found the child on her porch shortly after 7 a.m.

Precisely how Tod got there was not immediately determined, but police said he had apparently been put out of the car by the person who stole it and had made his way to the Sherwood porch.

Foster Home for Aged Is Closed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Garland County Judge Lon Warneke has closed the Foster Home for the Aged here because he said there was no justification for spending $20,000 to bring the home up to standards. The homes' 14 Negro patients have been transferred to homes for the aged at Malvern and Carthage.

The state Welfare Department cited the home for lack of air conditioning, no central heating and no fire sprinkler system. The Garland County Grand Jury had recommended that the home be closed or brought up to standards and left the decision up to Warneke.

Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr., Hope; Mrs. James Reed, Texarkana; Mrs. Harold E. Sullivan, Arkadelphia; Mrs. Floyd E. Taylor, Texarkana; John W. Klingner, Camden; Mrs. Larry Burrow, Magnolia; Mrs. Shirley Ingham, Texarkana and Mrs. Hales Lindvall, Malvern. Not present when picture was made were Mrs. B. Stan Cook, Jr., Texarkana and William L. Peek, Jr., Texarkana.

Mrs. Young was elected at a recent meeting in Texarkana. Henry M. Aldridge, general counsel, Southern Kraft Division of International Paper Co. from Mobile, Alabama was guest speaker for the awards luncheon.

George Frazier of Hope was master of ceremonies for the Conifer luncheon. He received a special scroll for his contribution to the Girl Scouts. A telephone dialer was presented to Charlie Thomas of Prescott for his service as drive fund chairman.

Others attending from Hope were Mrs. Gail Sinyard and Mrs. Lynn Harris.

Criticism of Rockefeller Attacked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon's criticism of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was attacked Thursday by Marion Burton, the governor's executive secretary.

Gordon told a Democratic rally at Hope Tuesday night the governor was a "power-mad dictator" and was "poorly equipped" to run the office.

Burton said notice should be given that the criticism came from a man who served as "counsel for the so-called 'in' political faction of Conway County for at least five years."

"I think it's a good question as to who is really politically power hungry," Burton said, referring to a number of court cases arising out of a Conway County political fight between Republicans and Democrats.

Appearing on a television program taped for showing Sunday, Burton said he thought it inappropriate for Rockefeller to respond to Gordon's criticism.

Burton said he thought Conway County "symbolic of the thing I have been fighting in state government for a number of years."

"Unfortunately, we have a number of counties that are controlled and Conway County is one of them," Burton said.

The GOP is seeking to "get some fair elections" in Conway County, he said.

The 1968 elections will be crucial for the GOP in Arkansas, Burton said, because for the first time the party will have a record on which it must stand. Burton said he believed the party would gain some legislative seats in upcoming elections. It now holds three.

General Believes the Army Can Reduce Men in Vietnam in 2 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland doesn't see an early end to the fighting in Vietnam but is optimistic about the war's progress and thinks a U.S. troop reduction may be possible within two years, congressional sources report.

But the U.S. commander in Vietnam, home for top-level talks on the war, also wants a troop buildup already approved by President Johnson to begin sooner than the original starting date of next July 1, the sources said.

"He sees the enemy losing steadily and continuously," said Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., after the general appeared Thursday before the Senate Armed Services Committee. Jackson quoted Westmoreland as saying North Vietnamese troops are better equipped than ever but aren't well led and their fighting quality is diminishing.

Even so, he "does not see any early termination of the war," reported the committee chairman, Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Westmoreland's session with the committee was private and the senators did not say whether he discussed just when he thinks the war could end.

Radio Station Owner Dies

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Ted Rand, owner and manager of radio station KDRS here, died early this morning in a local hospital following a heart attack. He was 51.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland expresses cautious optimism about Vietnam war progress but sees no early end to the fighting.

President Johnson is making an extraordinary bid to persuade Americans the United States is slowly winning the Vietnam war.

Picasso's "Bust of Sylvette" — the head of a girl with pony-tail hair — will rise 36 feet above Bleecker Street in Greenwich Village.

Arnett said the 4th Division troops took Hill 1338 after day-long fighting against an enemy battalion in bunkers on the crest of the hill.

The hill, four miles south of the Dak To airstrip is the highest point of ground in the area, overlooking all U.S. and South Vietnamese installations in the valley and a potential site for artillery emplacements to menace allied units below.

Arnett reported U.S. commanders suspected the North Vietnamese intended to deploy a rocket regiment along the crest of the hill, and the U.S. assault was ordered to thwart any such move.

A complete casualty report was not yet available, but initial field reports said seven Americans were killed and 14 were wounded in the early stages of the battle.

Enemy casualties were not known.

Bandits Hit House, Take $100,000

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two bandits ransacked the luxury penthouse apartment of Mrs. Carling L. Dinkler, wife of the hotel millionaire, today and escaped with jewelry worth $100,000, radio station WVCG reported.

Mrs. Dinkler, police sources told the station, returned to her apartment at the Palm Bay Yacht Club to find the robbers inside. She was not reported hurt.

A police spokesman confirmed a robbery but said, "I'm not releasing anything."

He said officers were attempting to come up with clues before disclosing details of the robbery. The FBI said it was investigating to determine if a federal law was violated.

Mrs. Dinkler and financier Walter Troutman formed a partnership to build the Palm Bay Yacht Club in 1965. It was Miami's first new private club in 20 years.

The club has a closed circuit television system to guard the 12 acres and the ships at its dock. It was not immediately known whether the television system was functioning at the time of the robbery.

The club has sunken tennis courts and air conditioned dog kennels. During construction of the club, Mrs. Dinkler — mother of four children — had the chrome hinges in the restrooms gold-plated to match the golden plumbing.
